

I do all my design work in either Freeform from Apple or Figma. I don't really use paper. and for icons i don't sketch because it always just makes me angry because my circles aren't circles.

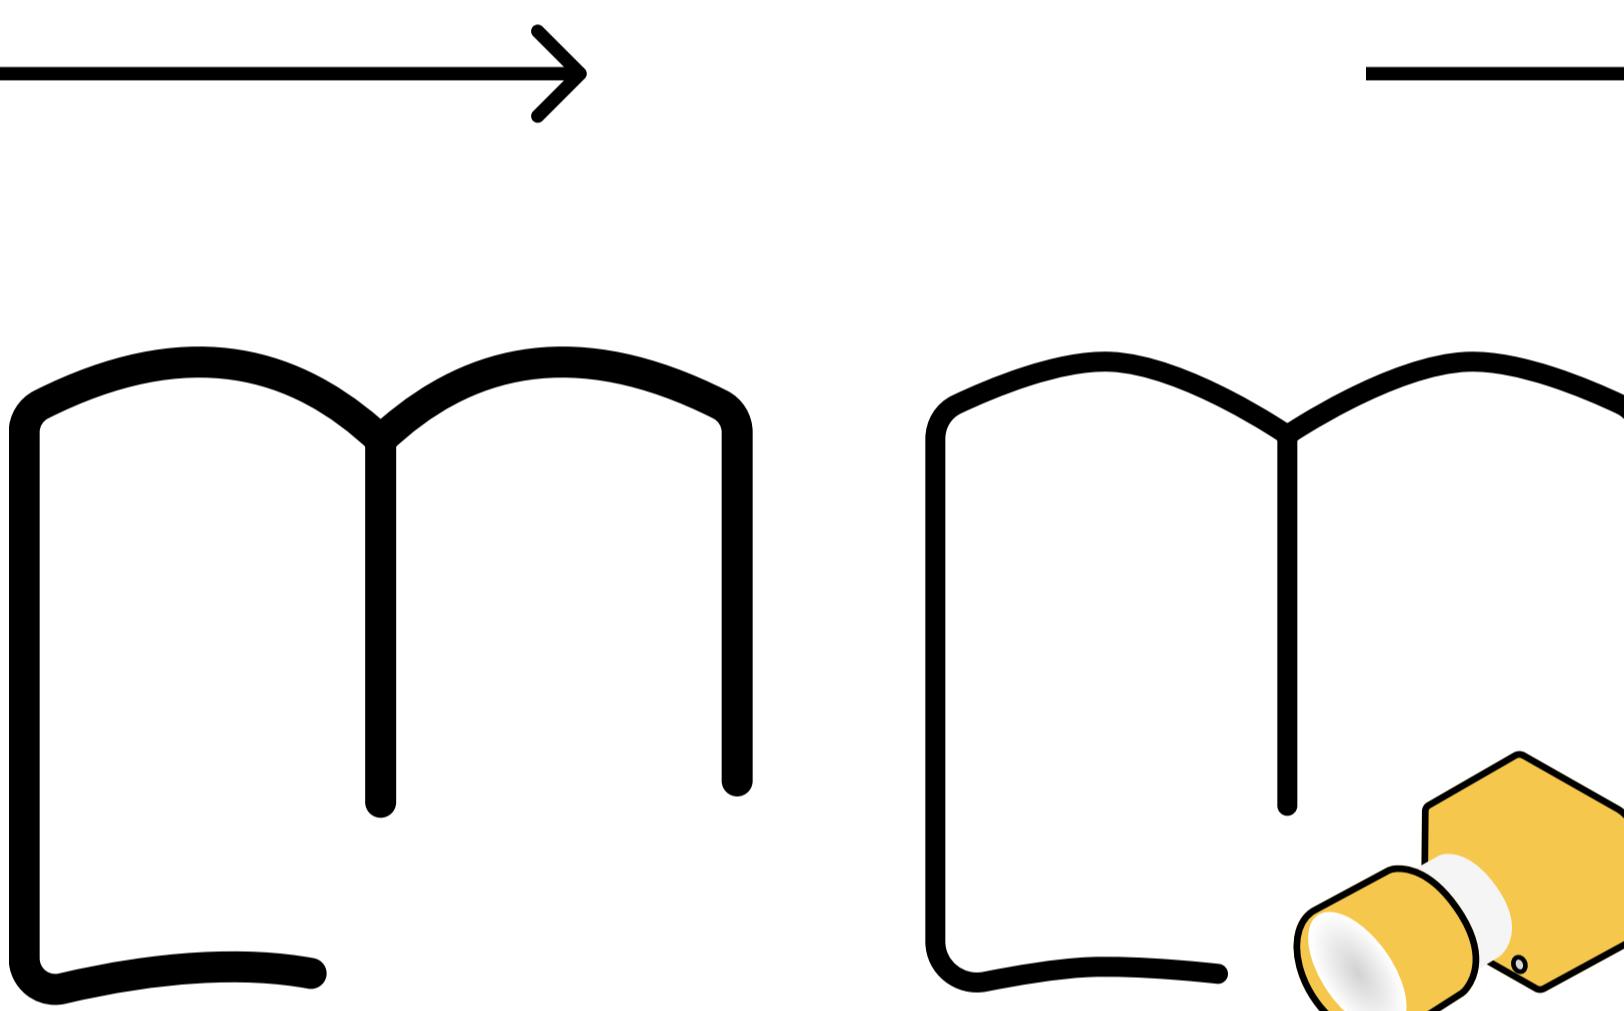

My process

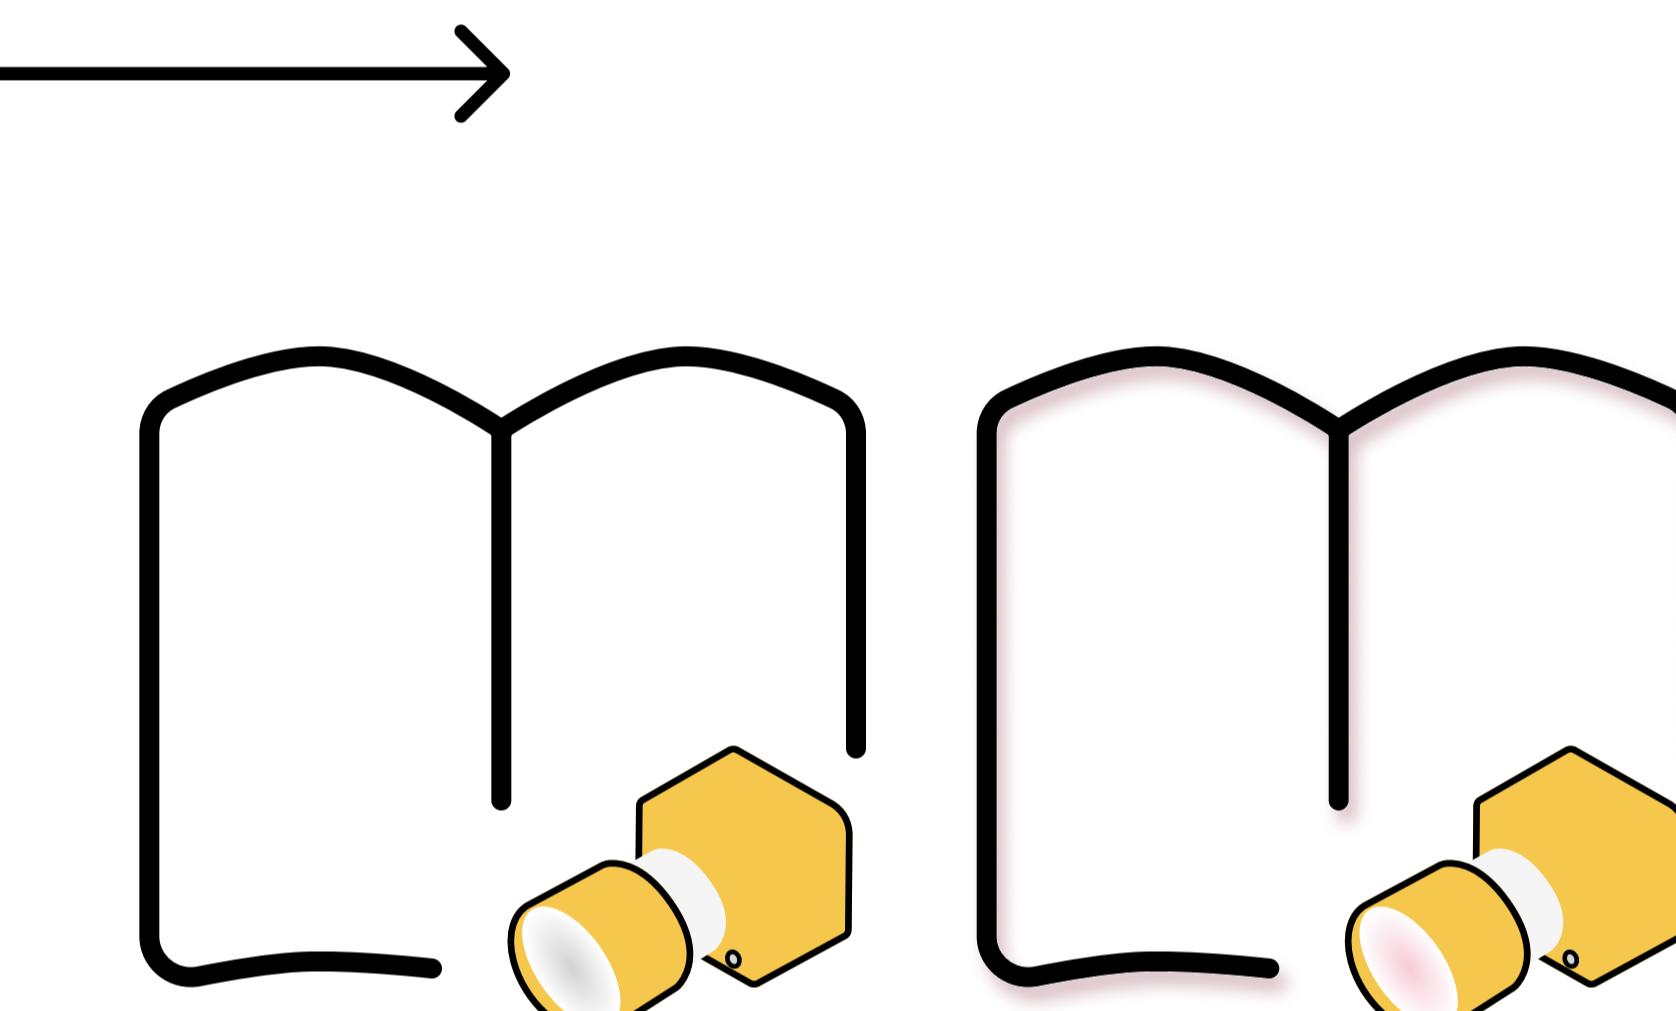

These are examples i found online.

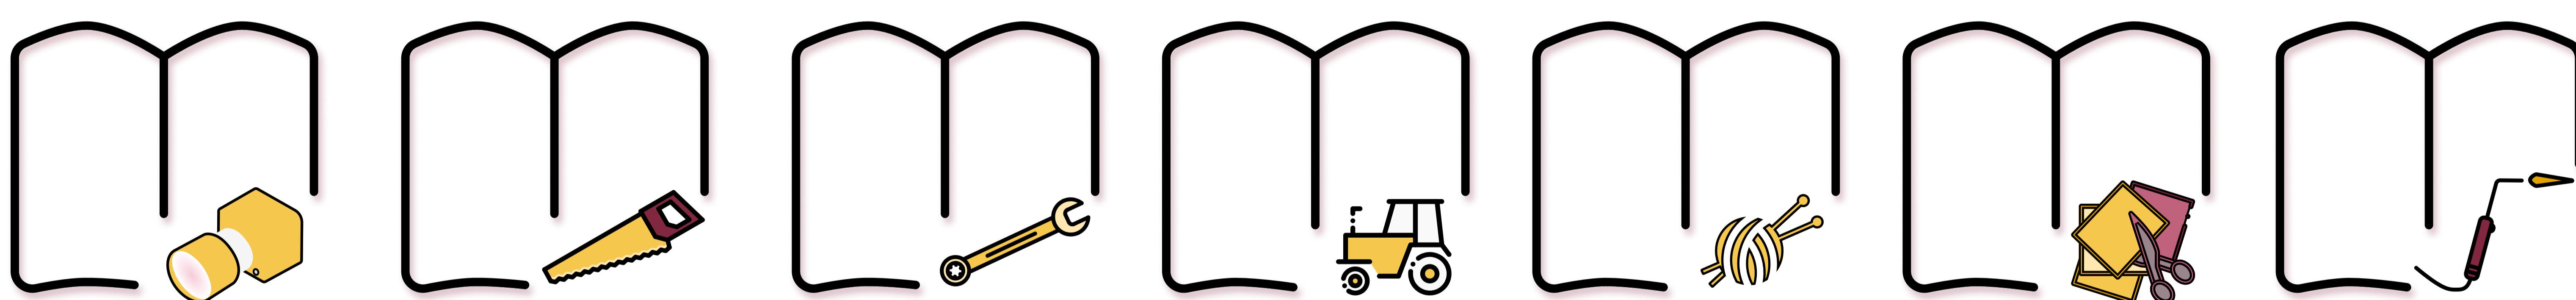

I took the examples and changed them a bit. This usually helps me start thinking of different directions to go with the style.

I took the book from the icon and made my own that I feel better sits with my camera and resembles ASU. I used the pen tool and bend tool to get the shapes I want. Layering is also huge here.

I took Mybook 1 and added color, I don't like it very much but at least it is not as flat. I would never spend more time with it to get it just right. But Mybook 3 will be good enough.
